NO EFFORTS TO SIDETRACK HUNT

Arizona Conference Leaders Remaining Silent

Candidate Against Changes in Constitution

Came Out for Office So He Could Have Say

PHOENIX (Ariz.) June 13.—Vocal denials have come from the Arizona conference leaders of the Arizona Democratic party, who are trying to sidetrack G. W. P. Hunt in the primary fight over the gubernatorial nomination.

It has been found that the process would be a boomerang. Hunt has support. It numbers thousands of men and women who would not hesitate to scratch at the primary the name of any man who had declared opposition to Hunt or Huntism.

So the candidates indorsed at the Tucson conference are busy in their efforts to keep on the fence with regard to the Governorship and to the constitutional amendments that propose the depopulation of the old convention system. The same interests that secured the calling of the State convention appear to be behind the amendments. Control has been almost perfect.

IS AGAINST CHANGE

The first snag, save for some adverse comment in the special legislative session, was struck when Hunt declared himself against the proposed changes. Then at the Tucson gathering came the almost futile effort of the Gila delegation to thrust a monkey wrench into the gears of the machine. The worst materialized when Hunt announced himself a candidate for Governor.

There is general belief of his statement that he has done this so that he could be in a position to solidify sentiment against what he deems an undemocratic attack upon essential policies. If he were not a candidate, his friends declare, he would be in the position of a mere iconoclast, kicking at the program and offering no remedy and no standard bearer.

C. B. Ward of Phoenix, the regular candidate for Governor, has started his campaign, showing some knowledge of psychology in making his first speech in Hunt's home town of Globe. His reception is said to have been cordial. On the subject of the amendments he took a rather opposite position.

Thus far, Hunt is the only contesting candidate. There had been expectation that State Treasurer Earhardt would get into the fight for Secretary of State, but late developments appear to have prevented this. It is admitted that the field is a clear one, and that only a matter of good taste would bar any candidates who might have been defeated at Tucson.

NO SERVICE MEN

There is criticism of the fact that not a single service man has been nominated by the Democrats for State office, though the former soldiers of the State control a vote of about 24,000, or about a quarter of the State registration. There is intimation that the Republicans are looking toward nomination of a large proportion of veterans for State office.

State Chairman McCalla has issued a call for contributions in sums of a dollar or more for the support of the Democratic headquarters.

Little attention appears to have been paid thus far to the leading paragraph of a call issued by Chairman McCalla, January 27, for a mass meeting, primary election or other means in each precinct for appointing or electing delegates to county conferences that shall be held at the county seats June 21, for consideration of the fitness, strength and availability of prospective candidates for county offices, with preference to be given to the individuals who, if nominated, "would lend the greatest strength to the Democratic ticket."

It is probable that these conventions will be held in all Arizona county seats, constituting an effective return to the old system and, in effect, abolishing the direct primary. However, there may be revolt in Gila and a few other counties.

Baby Specialists.

THAT there are Physicians who specialize on Infant ailments you know. All Physicians understand Infant troubles: all Physicians treat them. It is his profession, his duty, to know human ills from the Stork to the Great Beyond.

But in serious cases he calls in the Specialist. Why? He knows as every Mother knows, or ought to know, that Baby is just a baby, needing special treatment, special remedies.

Can a Mother be less thoughtful? Can a Mother try to relieve Baby with a remedy that she would use for herself? Ask yourself; and answer honestly!

Always remember that Baby is just a baby. And remembering this you will remember that Fletcher's Castoria is made especially for Infants and Children.

Children Cry For Fletcher's CASTORIA

The False and the True.

Advertising by the use of large space, the expenditure of huge sums of money have placed on the market, have put in your home, perhaps, many articles that today have been discarded, as you will readily admit.

Do you recall anything that has more modestly appealed to the public than has Fletcher's Castoria: modest in all its claims, pleading at all times—and truthfully—for our babies?

The big spurge, the misleading claims may win for a time, but the honest truth-telling advertiser is like the old story of the tortoise that beat the hare.

Mothers everywhere, and their daughters, now mothers, speak frankly, glowing, enthusiastically in praise of Fletcher's Castoria. Speak of it lovingly as a friend that has brought comfort, cheer and smiles to their little-ones.

To them: to these true mothers no argument can induce them to set aside their bottle of Castoria, their old friend, that they might try even another and unknown remedy for babies. Then, would YOU think of going to YOUR OWN medicine chest to find relief for Baby's troubles? Can you not separate the false from the true?

MYSTERY WITH TRIPLE TWIST

Sudden Death in Arkansas Has Not Been Solved

Disappearance of $100,000 Yet is Unexplained

Divorced Husband Thought Dead is Much Alive

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]
CHICAGO, June 13.—The Probate Court of Chicago and the coroner at Assumption, Ill., will join with police authorities of Illinois, Arkansas and Florida in an effort to solve the twin mysteries—the manner of Mrs. Ora Downes Ridgely's death in a cottage at Hot Springs, Ark., and what became of her fortune of $100,000, and $7500 worth of jewels. Florida authorities will be asked to investigate the disposition of a hotel or boarding house at Melbourne, Fla., in which Mrs. Ridgely is supposed to have invested $7000.

New development came today. One was that of a diamond brooch—a family heirloom—valued at more than $5000, which was taken from a vault in the Drexel State Bank several months ago by a woman who presented a note from Mrs. Ridgely, granting her permission to open the safety deposit box. Officer at the Drexel State Bank saw the brooch taken out by this woman. It is now missing and efforts are being made to trace it.

EX-HUSBAND NOT DEAD

Another point uncovered today was the information that Mrs. Ridgely's former husband, William C. Ridgely, retired coal operator, is living at Decatur, Ill. First stories of the emigration reported him as having died several years ago after the couple were divorced. According to Attorney McGinley, acting for Mrs. Ridgely's family, her husband, at the time of the separation, gave her a large fortune, including more than 400 acres of Illinois farm land worth at least $250 an acre. Persons acquainted with Mrs. Ridgely say she was worth half a million dollars less than ten years ago.

The Probate Court here was asked to appoint an administrator, whose duty it will be to locate, through legal channels, certain securities, jewelry and money and two wardrobe trunks of clothing and other personal effects which have not been found. This will enable the court to summon certain people to tell under oath what they know of this property. It is said there are a number of stock certificates which have not been turned over to Mrs. Ridgely's family, and the court desires to know if she left a will and whether or not it was destroyed. It is known a will was prepared, but so far there is no trace of it.

HAD VALUABLE PAPERS

Mrs. Ridgely also had valuable papers in certain lock boxes in Chicago banks. One of these boxes has been located, but its contents were turned over to a woman other than Mrs. Ridgely.

According to her attorney, Mrs. Ridgely, on more than one occasion was the victim of swindling promoters. One man interested her father in a promotion scheme whereby he lost $20,000. Mrs. Ridgely, who had introduced the promoter to her father, then turned on him and the promoter was sentenced to two years in prison for fraud.

The physician at Hot Springs, Ark., who attended Mrs. Ridgely in her fatal illness, scoffed at the intimation that she died of anything but natural causes—neuritis and rheumatism—both very painful and it was necessary to administer opiates to relieve her suffering.

HELPLESS CRIPPLE IN DEATH MYSTERY

LOOKS LIKE MURDER CASE, WITH BODY PLACED TO SUGGEST SUICIDE

[BY A. F. NIGHT WIRE.]
CHICAGO, June 13.—The body of Henry Wemmet, sales manager for R. and J. Dick, power transmission specialists, was found today. He was sitting on a cot in front of a keg of wine with a bullet hole through his head and a revolver in his left hand. A thick blanket covered his head and shoulders.

Relatives and police believe it a case of murder as Wemmet lost the use of his left hand through an infection. He was so helpless that his wife had to cut his meat at the table, lace his shoes and tie his scarf. She says it would have been impossible for him to hold the pistol or fire it with his left hand. The police believe he was murdered and the pistol placed in his stiffening hand to make it appear a suicide, but the slayer made the mistake of putting the weapon in the wrong hand.

In his office, there were evidences of a desperate struggle. Chairs were overturned and broken and papers were scattered all over the floor.

MEXICO AND BANKERS PROGRESSING ON LOAN

PROPOSITION NOW SEEMS TO AWAIT APPROVAL OF OREGON

[BY A. F. NIGHT WIRE.]
NEW YORK, June 13.—Conferences over the Mexican debt situation today progressed to a point where Finance Minister De la Huerta and the international committee of bankers on Mexico decided to put into writing as the basis for further discussion, the matters dealt with up to now.

An optimistic statement was issued by the Finance Minister, saying that if no new difficulties came up, the agreements reached may be considered as definite, subject to the ratification of President Obregon.

The bankers in their statement, made no mention of any agreement having been arrived at. Examination of the points to be put in writing will be made in conferences between the committee and the Finance Minister tomorrow or Thursday.

"Flu" Leaves Lungs Weak

New Dangers Follow in Wake of Deadly Scourge

Many persons have survived the "Flu," only to perish quickly later on from some less fatal disease. This is due to the fact that "Flu" shatters the body's power of resistance so that disease germs of all kinds can easily gain a foothold. Under ordinary conditions the system would be strong enough to repulse these germs, but in its weakened state it cannot properly defend itself against attack.

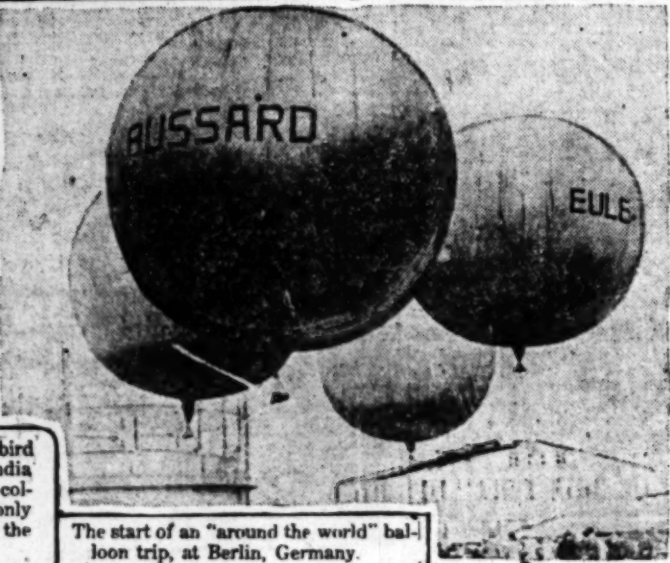

Although the entire body suffers from the weakening effects of "Flu," the greatest damage is usually wrought in the lungs and bronchial tubes, where the disease has its seat. These organs, in their run-down condition, offer a fertile field for the propagation of tuberculosis, pneumonia and other dangerous germs; hence the necessity for extra precaution until the system has had time to fully recuperate.

If you have recently had an attack of "Flu," take no chances. Keep your lungs and air passages free from disease germs by inhaling "Deo" vapors each night and morning.

"Deo" is the enemy of all germ life. It is just the short way of saying "Dennis' Eucalyptus Ointment," a wonderful combination of Australian Eucalyptus and other antiseptic, healing oils. Heat a spoonful of "Deo" in a tin pan or cup and draw in the deep breaths of the soothing vapor. In this way the vapor is carried to all parts of the respiratory tract, where it cools, soothes and forms a protecting film of all over the delicate membranes.

A valuable healing agent in coughs, colds, catarrh, croup and kindred troubles. Sold in 2-cent tubes and 50-cent jars by all first-class druggists. Guaranteed to give satisfactory results or money back. Get a supply today and protect your health. Demand the genuine "Deo," made only by Dennis Mfg. Co., Berkeley, Cal. —[Advertisement.]

DAILY TRADE TALK BUSINESS NEWS

Latin America Offers Great Opportunity to Far-Seeing Los Angeles Business Men

This is the second of a series of articles on trade conditions in Latin America; their relation to this country, and especially to the Pacific Coast. The author has spent many years in Central and South America and has made an intimate study of the people, their requirements and their reactions. He is a former editor of the Panama Morning Journal, the Panama Star and Herald, and has visited the remotest parts of the great South American domain as a special correspondent and investigator.

BY JOHN HALL
To successfully trade with Latin America a working knowledge of the Spanish language is vitally necessary. American business men seem to have regarded the fact that with an indifference surprising to those in Latin America familiar with the average American's systematic methods in commercial affairs. Very intelligent Latin-American merchants with whom I have discussed the matter have expressed their surprise at what they consider our negligence and a slighting of the sensibilities of Spanish just sufficient to make them preposterous to the sensitive Latin Americans. This is bad enough; but the real elephant in the china shop is the drummer who knows no Spanish and tries to do business in Latin America with Latin Americans, thus by implication telling Latin Americans that Spanish is not dead, is at least a dying language. This makes the politician of the Latin American see his Latin blood boils when he thinks of the much-maligned Yankee trying to shoulder his breed from the highway of world affairs. And straightway he thinks of all the mean things European salesmen, in their usually polished Spanish, have told him about the United States and everything American. But the European does not refer to us as Americans, he calls us Yankees, the pet term applied to us by our commercial rivals and those Latin Americans who see in us only a towering giant of oppression.

LANGUAGE IS ESSENTIAL
The simple fact that a man is too stupid to learn Spanish does not enter the mind of the Latin American. This view of the matter might be the crude Anglo-Saxon way, but the way that the son of Castile. Their numerous revolutions should warn us of the political side of the Latin American. Their trait in their character gives to their relations with the outside world a political tinge. Permanently proud of their Spanish ancestry, and tenaciously fighting to keep to the everything Spanish, they resent our sagacious lack of sympathy expressed in our failure to learn their language. And this is the simple vital truth.

Thoughtful business men, pondering this matter, must admit that the Latin Americans are justified in their resentment, and this carelessness is costing us millions of dollars in lost business. Perhaps a quiet at this sort of things will help those interested. Our salesmen admittedly are go-getters, but when they try to compete with the polished, historically, practically, European in Latin America, without knowing Spanish, they encounter a handicap which acts as a swift, hard-hitting boomerang, not only against the salesman, his house and his goods, but against the United States government and people. For the Latin American entirely ignores the individual and his house, and sees in the blundering salesman a national, representing a nation and the spirit of his nation in relation to the Latin-American state he is visiting as an ambassador of trade.

THE RIGHT PERSPECTIVE
Of the Spanish language, the American salesman who hopes to do business with Latin Americans must study the psychology of the people below the Rio Grande. As a beginning, he must understand that Anglo-Saxon and Latin are as far apart as the North and South poles in temperament, and general outlook upon life. The essence of Latin-American life is courtesy, with a capital "C." The outstanding characteristic of the Anglo-Saxon is directness in all things, usually shamelessly frank upon business. This trait of ours is abhorrent to the sensitive Latin. It is the chief reason why he dislikes us. He is crafty enough to realize, hook and bait, what the European offers against us, but our bluntness chills him and adds to his suspicion that our nature is antagonistic to all he holds most precious.

In seemingly refusing to go to the trouble of learning the Spanish language we are seriously impeding the costly efforts of the Government to bring together the people of the two continents. We have well paid trade investigators in all countries of Central and South America, who add their efforts to the diplomatic work of our Ministers and Consuls. Our Government spends millions in this field, but our business men render futile a great part of this excellent work when they send to Latin America salesmen unable to speak Spanish. The way is paved for them; but they'll never succeed as they should while murdering Spanish in the presence of an educated Latin-American with whom they want to do business.

ALL AMERICANS
Another little hint should receive serious consideration: We are accustomed to calling ourselves "Americans," thereby arrogantly broadening the glad tidings that we are the only Americans. The Latin receives this with a sardonic leer and the implied question: "What, then, we mean all those people occupying that territory from the Rio Grande to Cape Horn? The Latin American then politely disposes of the matter by writing us down in every official document as "North Americans." With this description attached to us he elevates his brow and coldly awaits the next slightly toned accent. This is not polite. All Americans who have traveled through Latin America can testify to the mild shock of surprise they felt when they noticed this finely drawn distinction.

Big Three Feel Stimulation of Better Prices

BY ALEXANDER DANA NOYES
(Exclusive Dispatch)

NEW YORK, June 13.—The stock market, the wheat market, and the cotton market recovered simultaneously today and the immediate cause for the reversal of form from that of yesterday appeared to be the same in all three. Outside speculators for the rise who had overstepped the line of prudence had been forced to sell, but professional speculators for the decline had seemingly sold quite as heavily, and were not disposed to delay in covering the irregular sales by purchases at the much lower final prices of yesterday. On the stock exchange the result was a change from the sharp decline of yesterday to a recovery of the day's advance, with the wheat market showing a similar reaction. The cotton market, however, even after fractional recovery, showed the closest ranging in active shares from one to three points. The strength of the recovery was not so much a few of them gained more ground than they had lost the day before.

On the whole this recovery gave evidence of the strength of the general situation, to the extent that it witnessed the prevalent conviction that improvement in trade and continued recovery of the cotton market influences. That it means a return to the excited speculation of a few weeks ago does not equal to follow. "A speculative market," which has been as rough-handed as it was in the markets of the last few days is likely to spend some time in learning its financial brules, but the financial position is none the worse for that. The day's weakness in foreign exchange, the decline in the wheat market, with the action of these other markets, even sterling declined 2 cents, reaching the lowest rate since June 1933, and the decline of 1/4 from the recent high level reached a week ago. Continental rates, except for the German mark, declined in the wheat market, with the action of these other markets, even sterling declined 2 cents, reaching the lowest rate since June 1933, and the decline of 1/4 from the recent high level reached a week ago.

What Is the Best Buy in the Market?

Some investors have become dazzled by the profits that have accumulated on their securities during the last few months and think that anything they buy is bound to go up. They are wrong. Safety of principal and interest is always the best "buy" in the market for

MORE GERMAN PAPER LIKELY

Presses May Again Start to Print Money
Failure of Loan the Cause of Conjecture
NATION WEARY OF THREATS BY FRENCH PEOPLE
BERLIN, June 13.—The report of the committee of which J. P. Morgan is a member is a notice to Germany to start up the presses again at printing paper money. Germany cannot stand still for three months. While everyone here believes Mr. Morgan directed the report solely against French obstinacy, and meant to force France to permit reductions in the payment of reparations, these three months are crucial. The German government considers itself no longer bound by its vote to the Reparations Commission in which Germany practically yielded to every demand—provided it got a loan. Germany, however, wants to see French action to the report; the chief interest there is in what is happening in France. Germany will be forced to determine the course of action according to France's action.

MAYOR IS SEEKING HARMONY

May Take Drastic Action to End Dispute of Board of Utilities
MAYOR CRYER YESTERDAY TACKLED the problem of trying to bring harmony in the Board of Public Utilities, where Commissioner Kennedy is at odds with President King and Commissioner Leedes.
During the municipal campaign last year, Mayor Cryer was active in former Mayor Leedes' campaign for re-election. Cryer understood when he took office, that the Mayor, Commissioner Kennedy, and Commissioner Leedes would soon resign. ALLAN WOULD SPEED TRAFFIC AT CROSSINGS

To speed up movement of traffic in the downtown streets Councilman Allan yesterday recommended that the ordinance be amended to permit vehicles to make right-hand turns at street intersections at all times. Under Councilman Allan's plan an automobile arriving at a street intersection where the signal device or the traffic officer is "turned against" the movement, may turn right across the intersection, may make a right-hand turn and proceed on its way. The Council yesterday referred Councilman Allan's suggestion to the Board of Public Utilities for a report.

WHALE START SERVICE TO THE PRINCIPAL PORTS OF SOUTH AMERICA

Representatives of the Mexican States Line, operating a fleet of smaller combination freight and passenger vessels between California and Mexican coast ports, under British registry, announced yesterday that the service is to be extended to the principal ports of Central America. The new service will bring the company's steamers as far south as Corinto, it was said.

Bonded Liquor Found in Port Customs Raid

With a raid conducted yesterday by Deputy Collector Putnam, customs official at Los Angeles Harbor, a drive on vessels and sailors bringing narcotics and liquor into the local port is said to have started. The raiders went to the steamship Yorba Linda of the General Petroleum line and reported the seizure of 200 bottles of bonded whisky, six bottles of foreign made beer and several bottles of rum. Capt. Hogner and two members of the crew were taken to Los Angeles by the harbor officials. They were charged with smuggling and violation of the Volstead act. They will be arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Lorch this morning.

Auto Plunges Into Ravine; Two Are Hurt

Cus Lerch, aged 38 years, of 151 South Beacon street, San Pedro, and E. W. Lingham, aged 32 years, of Lomita, were taken to the Hillside Hospital at San Pedro last night after an automobile accident. The car, which had been rented by Lerch, plunged thirty feet into a ravine. The men were taken to the hospital in an ambulance by Patrolman Williamson and treated by Police Surgeon Langer. It is reported that Lerch is suffering from a concussion of the brain because of numerous other injuries. Lingham is suffering from internal injuries and lacerations about the legs and body. Both men were unconscious at a late hour last night.

Houseboats in Inner Harbor Must Be Moved

LOS ANGELES

WEDNESDAY MORNING, JUNE 14, 1922. -PART II: 12 PAGES.

POPULATION (By the Federal Census--1920--$75,000; By the City Directory--1921--$81,151)

AN ANNOUNCEMENT

All who have lived in Southern California for a decade or more are aware that epochal changes are taking place. Prophecies have fallen short; achievement has out-distanced expectations; the wonderland is in transformation.

The Los Angeles Times, in accordance with its policy of reflecting in its own affairs the progress of the community, has prepared a great constructive campaign, the details of which will be announced from day to day. Its purpose will be to signalize the forward strides of the Southland and to give to greater-than-ever Southern California a greater-than-ever Los Angeles Times.

A. J. FREY DIES IN EAST

Prominent Steamship Firm Executive Succumbs to Peculiar Malady in Baltimore Hospital

Stricken by a peculiar malady, which baffled all efforts of medical science, A. J. Frey of this city, formerly vice-president of the United States Shipping Board Emergency Fleet Corporation and regarded for years as one of the leading steamship company executives on the Pacific Coast, died yesterday in the Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore.

His affliction was an obscure ailment of which there are few cases on record and of which practically nothing is known. His wife, son and a brother-in-law, W. B. Hill, were with him when the end came.

Chairman Albert D. Lasker of the Shipping Board when notified of Mr. Frey's demise, stated that he was "the greatest physical ship operator man America has produced" and that the best work in the Shipping Board has been done by him during the time he was on active duty.

Mr. Frey had been under treatment at Johns Hopkins for several weeks prior to his death. He joined the Shipping Board in July, last year, being placed in full charge of operation, with a salary of $25,000 a year. He threw himself into the work with tremendous zeal and his eagerness to put the emergency fleet into profitable operation resulted, his associates say, in overwork which aggravated the disease with which he was afflicted and hastened the end.

Mr. Frey was born at Heidelberg, Germany, June 6, 1875; his family moved to California in 1883, where he received his early education in the public schools. His first work was as a clerk in the office of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, an secretary to the vice-president and general manager.

He was soon promoted to the assistant manager and occupied similar positions with the Portland and Astoria, Occidental and Oriental and San Francisco and Portland steamship companies, affiliated with the Pacific Mail Steamship Company. The period involved terminated in 1915, when he organized the China Mail Steamship Company, under the American flag, for a group of Chinese capitalists, and this line is still operating between San Francisco, Japan and China.

Mr. Frey came to this city about three years ago from Seattle and San Francisco, and accepted a responsible position with the Los Angeles Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company at Los Angeles Harbor. When Fred L. Baker, his associate, bought the Harvard and Yale and placed them in service on a fast passenger run between this city and San Francisco for the Los Angeles Steamship Company, Mr. Frey became general manager of the concern.

He came here from the Pacific Mail Steamship Company with which he held an executive position for many years, and in the service of which he earned the reputation of being the most expert steamship operator on the Pacific Coast. While Mr. Frey was engaged in Los Angeles Harbor shipbuilding activities he resided at Long Beach.

The San Joaquin Valley disease, which was the direct cause of Mr. Frey's death, is said to have been about fifteen years ago by Dr. William Osborn of Stanford University.

The disease is regarded by medical science as practically incurable. Only sixty-nine cases of it have been known to exist in this country, and records show that fifty-seven of them proved fatal. According to the State Board of Health the disease is coexistent, a fungus which attacks the skin and later spreads to the inner tissues of the body, having nearly all the symptoms of tuberculosis of the lungs, and usually affecting the brain in its advanced stages.

The disease was first described about fifteen years ago by Dr. William Osborn of Stanford University.

SAYS POWDER CAUSED SLAYING

Woman Held on Charge of Shooting Tenant

Victim Cast Spell Over Accused, She Asserts

Neighborhood Quarrel Ends in Death of One

A mysterious black powder was named yesterday as the cause of a neighborhood quarrel which ended with the slaying of one elderly woman by another. Mrs. Margaret Hogan, 57 years old, is the dead woman. Mrs. Helen McClung, accused as the slayer, is held at Central Station on a charge of murder.

Mrs. Hogan, the wife of a painting contractor, lived at 1754 Blanchard street. She rented the house to Mrs. McClung, 53 years old and the wife of a painter, who lived on the rear of the same lot at 1753-A Blanchard street.

Mrs. McClung, clutching a revolver, was seen running from her own home to Mrs. Hogan's door yesterday morning. Four shots were heard by neighbors. No witnesses to the shooting were found.

HEARD NO QUARREL. I. Wahnes, who roomed with the Hogan family, was shaving when he heard the shots, but he heard no quarrel or any words exchanged by the two women.

N. Frank Case, of 765 Forrest avenue, was passing the Hogan house when he saw a strange revolver, was seen running from her own home to Mrs. Hogan's door yesterday morning. Four shots were heard by neighbors. No witnesses to the shooting were found.

IN THE RECEIVING HOSPITAL, where she was taken for observation, Mrs. McClung continued her shrieking. When she had been partially pacified, she told Detective Sergeant Louis Rico and Gibson the story of the mysterious black powder.

"WEIRD INFLUENCE." She told the detectives that for some unknown reason Mrs. Hogan had cast a weird hypnotic influence over her. Later, George McClung, her husband, also asserted he was a victim of the slain woman's hypnotic power. When they departed from home, he said, McClung declared, the strange influence diminished as the distance increased, but it was stronger as Mrs. Hogan's power was the same neighborhood.

THE MURDER POWER, Mr. McClung said, seemed to be embodied in a mysterious black powder, which they accused Mrs. Hogan of scattering around the house. They also declared that Mrs. Hogan would approach them with a handful of the black powder and it is in their hands.

"I came home last Saturday night," said Mr. McClung between sobs at Central Station. "I smelled something. I knew it was that black powder. Then I seemed to go blind and my head throbbed terribly. Then my wife told me my eyes were very and I looked like a mad man."

No other motive than that of the black powder could be obtained by the detectives. Their investigation, they said, indicated that Mrs. McClung was insane.

Mrs. Hogan's body was taken to the undertaking parlors of French and Sons, Boyle Heights.

SEEIN' THINGS

Why not share your chuckle with others? When you see something unusual, drop a note about it to the City Editor of The Times. Then we can all smile.

F.A.G. thinks the following sentence from the lips of the "million dollar doll" as quoted by a local paper possesses a strange flavor: "Perhaps," said Joyce, "I shall marry again, but it will not be for a long, long time." Nothing strange there. None of her marriages has lasted long.

L.V.R. found this in the paper with the pretty green overcoat: "Wanted--Experienced lady presser." Well, so; just what is required.

Mrs. R.E.D. doesn't think this is a very good idea: "Wonderful home cooking in private home. Wednesdays and Sundays. Also the mill, serve tourists." How is she stewed? Retardation or a sliced shriner, garnished with fesses and thistles?

L.E.P. would a mean scold and slip us this from a Redondo Beach paper: "After the recent storm the beach was strewn with flotsam (sic) and jetsam." Flotsam (sic) and jetsam. What a word!

L.S.W. got a kick out of this sign on the side of an express auto which roamed the streets of Glendale: "R.A.V. Express Service. Why, pray, the periods? WHAT DID YOU SEE?"

The men were found guilty some weeks ago and were sentenced to death. Following the sentencing of the men, they were taken secretly to the County Jail, where they were held incommunicado.

SANDBERG NOW PORT MANAGER

Former Luckenbach Line Official Named by Harbor Board

Capt. A. Sandberg, 7033 Hawthorne Boulevard, was appointed traffic manager for Los Angeles Harbor yesterday, by the Board of Harbor Commissioners' meeting at the port. He will get a salary of $8000 a year.

While not opposed by President McKee, the appointment of Capt. Sandberg was virtually forced by Commissioners Kibele and Richards. It is reported that President McKee desired to have action on the appointment of Mr. Sandberg deferred until next Friday.

Capt. Sandberg, for the last five years has been traffic manager for the Luckenbach Steamship Company. From his twelfth until his twenty-fifth year, Capt. Sandberg followed the sea. At the age of 25 he was given a master certificate. His last command was the Pacific Steamship Company's ship, the Los Angeles. From then until 1916, when the Luckenbach company closed its office, he was that company's manager. Since the war the captain has traveled in the Orient and in Europe for the Luckenbach Line. He was working out new shipping routes for this organization.

Capt. Sandberg will be asked to appear before the harbor board next Friday, when instructions will be given regarding the harbor traffic problems at the harbor. It is thought that the plan will be formulated and presented to the board by the appointee at a very early date.

George Southwick, who has been acting as traffic manager for the harbor since the death of Mr. Southwick's former position as superintendent of the belt line railroad at the harbor. Mr. Southwick has been placed in charge of the rates which are collected by the city at San Pedro. Because of civil service requirements Mr. Southwick returns to his former position. He receives an unannounced increase in salary.

INCOME TAX IS DUE. The second quarterly payment of the income tax will be due and payable tomorrow. Internal Revenue Collector Goodrich announced yesterday that it locally will be assessed against all who fail or neglect to pay as required by law.

PRICE IS PLEADED. Price declared after the interview with Baker that he was pleased with the result. "I think that Baker is in a bad physical condition," declared Price. "I talked to him about plans for the Klan in California and about the Ingleswood raid there. It was announced at the headquarters of the Klan."

Behind the bars of the County Jail yesterday the future course of the Invisible Empire of the Ku Klux Klan in California was outlined by King Kleagle Gus W. Price, state head of the organization, to King N. A. Baker, confederate leader of the Ingleswood masked raiders.

King Kleagle Price, who returned late Tuesday night from Atlanta Ga., and who is at liberty under bond charged with connection with the Ingleswood raid, spent over an hour with Baker, who is held in the County Jail in default of $10,000 bail.

Price declared after the interview with Baker that he was pleased with the result. "I think that Baker is in a bad physical condition," declared Price. "I talked to him about plans for the Klan in California and about the Ingleswood raid there. It was announced at the headquarters of the Klan."

Price appeared in Judge Henderson's court yesterday at 1 p.m. and was arraigned on the felony indictments voted by the county grand jury. He entered a plea of not guilty and was released under $1000 bail. He then went directly to the County Jail and visited the raid leader.

In a statement given out after his visit to the County Jail, Price declared that prior to August 7, when he will stand trial with thirty-six others charged with connection with the Ingleswood raid, little will be done in California to re-form the badly scattered ranks of the Ku Klux Klan.

"I do not know if I will open an office at this time," declared Price. "My plans are only partly formed and I will be unable to make a public announcement soon. I have been appointed head of the Klan in this state and you can say for me that no rough stuff is going to be done."

Gifts for Graduation

For the Youth, wearing apparel suggests itself as a pleasing and appropriate gift. A travelling bag--suit case--kit bag--or brief case--is equally desirable.

For the Girl--a dressing case with shell or ivory fittings--a patent leather over-night bag--a hand bag--a gold mounted vanity case--a sewing basket--or any of the innumerable articles we display would suit the occasion perfectly.

ACCOUNT OF ADVENTURE IS UNTRUE

Accused Sailor Admits Theft of Yacht Owned by Local Attorney

Anton Krug, who told a story of being shipwrecked and taken on a stolen yacht after the craft was found in his possession, yesterday admitted to Superior Judge Avery that he stole the boat. The ship "Spindrift" was found in Krug's possession at San Diego.

Krug, who says he is a sailor of fortune and that he has crossed and recrossed the seven seas, was once tried on the charge and the jury disagreed. Yesterday when he came up for retrial before Judge Avery, he changed his plea to guilty.

According to the account given by Krug when arrested and during his trial, he was standing on a wharf at the harbor when a man he had never seen before came along between Los Angeles and Avalon. He climbed aboard and away they sailed. After four days at sea he found he was alone and knocked the skipper overboard.

Krug then turned about, he stated, and sailed for this coast. He came in sight of land south of San Diego and sailed north, he declared. The "Spindrift" is the property of Eugene Overton, local attorney.

WINGED MUSIC FILLS THE AIR

Steel Guitar, Soprano and Baritone from KHJ

Real Harmony Goes Out to Radio Infinity

Afternoon Program Features Reader and Soloists

The Times-KHJ—on the air today, 1 to 4:45 p.m. Aldrine K. Grafke, dramatic soprano, accompanied by Jesse Blake Franklin, will sing "Songs My Mother Taught Me," by Drorak, and "The World is Waiting for the Sunrise," by Selts. Philip T. Hillman, baritone, accompanied by Mrs. Myrtle Briscoe, will sing "Over the Willow Sea," by Earl Smith; "When the Ball in the Lighthouse Ring Dings-Dong," by Alfred Solomon, and "When Big Profound Sing Low C," by George Rotford.

CHILDREN'S EVENING
On the air from 7:15 to 8 p.m. This program has been arranged especially for the entertainment of all kinds of radiolists, with a surprise in store for them. Jack Andrews, 13-year-old boy soprano, accompanied by Dorothy Roeline, will sing "O Dry Those Tears," by Tunes Deaf Bigger, and "Mother Macabre," by Olcott-Bell. A message will be broadcast to Masonic Home, Corvina, which is a kiddie hospital, but which also will interest every little boy and girl listening in. Leonora Eves, 11-year-old pianist, will play "Minuet a L'Antique," by Paderewski, and "Araguena," by Liszt. Ruth Hostetter, 8 years old, will sing "The Bunchy," "The Tulip," and "The Summer Boat." Marjorie Frances Scofield, 13-year-old pianist, will play "Rigoletto," by Verdi-Liszt, and "Caprice," by Kreisler. Hilfred Hanson Hostetter will sing "Mr. Bumble Bee," "In China," and "Trillium," by Liszt, and "The Cuckoo Clock," by Schaefer. Mrs. Hostetter will also sing "The Buttons Are Marked U. S.," by Currie Jacobs Bond; "The Owl" and "The Wren," by Lehmann, and "A Child's Prayer," by Harold. Maestro William Trolor will play all accompaniments for Mrs. Hostetter. Of course, the bedtime story.

Into the far reaches of "radio infinity" last night was sent an artistic blending of song and romantic harmony. Winged skyward by the microphone, vacuum tubes, tuners and such other modern equipment as goes to make up the apparatus with which KHJ, The Times radio, broadcasts its concert, the acme of results from deep study in their respective spheres spread over the Southland, to deepest valley, to highest crag, on, on, into space, bringing to the homes of thousands musical numbers that came straight from the heart.

Soprano, baritone and steel guitar—a combination worthy of the attention of the multitude. Mary Newkirk Bower, who charmed her Sunday morning hearers from KHJ, by popular request again went on the air for The Times, this time singing "The Answer," by Robert Huntington Perry, "Pierrot," by Dagmar Ryhner, and "Come to the Garden, Love," by Mary Turner Salter. To the charming accompaniment of Mrs. Helen Robinson, Mrs. Bower's exquisitely charming soprano responded as the magic lyre to the woman youth and the result was the acme of perfection.

George L. Krommiller's deep baritone voice rang clear and resonant when he sang "Until," by Sanderson; "Pale Moon," by Logan, and "Tommy Lead," by Krommiller. Mr. Krommiller's total quality and clear enunciation were a delight to listeners in.

ories of the old days and must have made many of the older generation who heard his charmingly harmonious rendition of "When You and I Were Young, Maggie," hark to the days when that was the hit of their day. In his medley of old-time melodies he showed a fine conception of harmony as it is exemplified by the king of Hawaiian instruments, the steel guitar.

AFTERNOON CONCERT
Virtuoso denunciation of the macabre bled as sponsored by Gertrude Washburn, dramatic reader, yesterday afternoon, no doubt put listeners in a quandary as to whether or not they were eavesdropping on some family squabble, but when only one side of the altercation was heard they understood that this was merely a satire on men and not meant in any measure discredit. The more credulous heard Miss Washburn give a similarly satirical reading on single-blessedness as exemplified by spinsters. Her two readings were "Down with the Men," and "The Old Maid." Dorothy Roeline, pianist, gave a very spirited rendition of Brahms' "Hungarian Dance, No. 5," which showed admirable technique. Her second number, "My Curly Headed Baby," by Chisham, was beautifully interpreted. In addition to her two piano solos, Miss Roeline acted as accompanist for the other numbers on the program.

Holly Lash gave listeners in the full range of her mellower soprano in a charming interpretation of "Somewhere a Voice is Calling," by Carrie Jacobs-Bond, followed by the touching "Old us sy," by Agapios. Agapios, who sang Charles Wakefield Cadman's "At Dawning."

Women's Home Dedicates New Memorial Hall

Dedication of the new Memorial Hall of the Southern California Home for Women, at 215 East Avenue 57, will take place at 2:30 p.m. Sunday, according to an announcement yesterday by Mrs. Celia Noll, president of the board of directors of the home. The dedicatory service will be conducted by Mrs. Eva C. Wheeler, president of the State W.C.T.U., under the auspices of which organization the institution is operated. The annex to the home building consists of fourteen rooms, four of which will be devoted entirely to caring for the sick. The home and memorial hall cost about $110,000, of which $4000 has been paid. "We are hoping the remaining indebtedness will soon be liquidated," said Mrs. Noll. "Gifts of $50 or more will be gratefully received in memory of loved ones whose names will be placed on a tablet in Memorial Hall. At present there are thirty-six women in the home and applications for rooms are being made daily."

The Mexican government is contemplating installing a number of telephones radiophones in various parts of the republic where Mexican radio stations are already located, according to J. F. Brittingham, Gomez Palacio, Dgo., who, in writing to KHJ, also says atmospheric conditions in his region are perfect, and that he is able to get signals very clearly. This is a direct contradiction of most of the reports from Mexico, which say static is usually very bad. Mr. Brittingham is located about 1000 miles southwest of KHJ. As soon as he installs his transmitting set he hopes to get in touch with amateurs in the United States.

A new departure in variable condensers which for ruggedness of design and neatness of construction, apparently is without peer, is the Haselhurst fiber stem condenser which is made for back panel mounting, and which needs no shielding. The condenser is constructed of thin without Vernier adjustment. With the Vernier adjustment one plate can be moved independently of the others, permitting a fine adjustment. This is a very desirable feature, especially in C. W. work, where very close tuning is necessary.

SMALL BEQUESTS

Many Friends Remembered in Will of Lydia Jackson
Bequests of $25 and $50 each were left thirty-one friends and relatives of the late Lydia J. Jackson, whose will was filed for probate yesterday. Mrs. Jackson's estate is said to be worth $15,000. By the terms of the will an "author's digest" was bequeathed to Whittier College. The bulk of the estate was distributed among six brothers and sisters.

Expectant and excited kiddies will be on the gulch at 7:15 tonight, virtually arrested, if one may be allowed to trifle with an adjective usually applied to the eyes.

And if daddy doesn't heed the plea with which this story begins, then some precocious daddling may add—"you know daddy, The Times arranged tonight's program especially for us kids, and there won't be anything in it that can possibly interest you." Which, in a measure, is the truth. Of course, we admit remembrances of childhood days are always sweet to all of us, but by rights the receiving set head phones belong to the kiddie ears tonight from 7:15 to 8:00 o'clock. Virtually tonight's concert is "for children only." Moreover, there is a big surprise for the wee bairns in addition to an especially arranged schedule of solos and instrumental numbers.

And just a word to the kiddies themselves. If I told you what this surprise was it wouldn't be a surprise, or if I told you just when the concert for it had the joy of anticipation would be lost, therefore, I warn you, listen close; listen intently, and don't miss the big surprise.

PACKERS TO MEET

W. W. Wood of Chicago, secretary of the national meat council, will be the principal speaker at a mass meeting of wholesalers and retail meat dealers and packers at 8 p.m. today in room D, Chamber of Commerce. The purpose of the gathering, it is stated, is to obtain the practical benefits of the council, an organization, to all engaged in any branch of the meat business.

FRANKLIN ANFORD LOSES C.I.F. VERDICT

Prep Process Granted by H. J. Moore

Plays Against Team Made on Two Counts

Next Monday

Franklin High School and Stanford High School will battle the state championship basketball game at Washington Park Monday afternoon. This game announcement comes as no less an authority than H. J. Moore, of Long Beach High School, who is president of the C.I.F.

The largest high school basketball game ever played in the state was played Monday night at Washington Park. The game was a close one, with Stanford leading for most of the game, but Franklin won in the final minutes.

The game was played under the rules of the C.I.F. and was a very exciting one. The crowd was large and the game was well attended.

It wouldn't be the same—
"If every woman on the street should make a loaf of bread, they wouldn't be the same at all," The Master Baker said.
"Some loaves would burn, and some would fall, and some would not be good; though each one used the self-same flour and did the best she could."

And there's no secret about making Clicquot Club Ginger Ale. We tell what we put in it. Other manufacturers know all the ingredients we use. They can buy most of them. But they don't make Clicquot Club—any more than a woman can make bread and a recipe can make bread which tastes like her neighbor's bread made with the same flour and recipe. We have one decided advantage over other ginger-ale makers. All the water we use is pure, cold spring water, drawn from

Vernon Slams Charley Pick's Lads in a Cruel Manner

JAMES HEAVES IN FINE SHAPE

Shuts Out Solons, Allowing Only Two Hits

Vernon Easily Cops First Game With Sacs

Fittery is Touched Up for Extra Bag Slaps

[SACRAMENTO, June 13.—The Solons staged a classy exhibition of the national pastime out at the Morning ball orchard this afternoon, but they put it all into their fielding. At the bat they didn't have a look in, for Bill James had altogether too much stuff on the ball and the home boys simply couldn't connect.

It was Bill's own fault that he didn't horn into the hall of fame. A momentary bit of hesitation shown in fielding Pearce's bunt in the eighth inning and the grand opportunity to hang up a no-hit, no-run encounter slipped into the discard. It didn't matter then to Bill and his helpers that Justin Fitzgerald poled one across the middle sack in the next period of combat.

HITS CREEP IN

One hit had crept into the record and that was enough to spoil the afternoon for William. It is a matter of record though that neither Pearce nor Fitz got beyond first station. In the meanwhile, the Tigers had hit Fittery at opportune moments, and the afternoon did not want south, 4 to 0. Paul Fittery hurled a pretty exhibition himself. In but two innings he was found for more than one safe click. The fact of the matter is, though, that the local southpaw was found hard when he was hit, six of the nine base knocks going for extra sacks. He whiffed six and passed two.

Red Smith opened the Morning matinee in canto one, with a click to left. Chadbourne sent him to second on a sacrifice. Hawks batted. Then Schneider doubled to left, and Smith came over. Hyatt was out. Fittery to Mollwitz. Sawyer opened the next period with a double to right. French helped him along with a sacrifice, and Murphy put him over the gutter percha from the business end of a squeeze play, going out Mollwitz to McGaffigan. James fled to Sheehan.

SAFE ON BOOT

In the seventh, after Sawyer had clicked one to right, French arrived safely on a boot by Pearce. With Sawyer now on third, Murphy shot one down to short field, and Pearce erased the trouble he had instigated, by nipping French with a toss to McGaffigan, who wheeled like a propeller and shut Murphy off at first for another spectacular double play.

Now comes the eighth and James struck out. That should have been the record upon Red Smith, but his ump saw it otherwise. So they wrote a four-bag wallop into the columns after Red's moniker. It cleared the left palisade, not far from the bed-rock. Nature has filtered and re-filtered it.

The carbonation of this water and the flavoring with Jamaica ginger, fruit juices, and sugar make the happy blend that is never duplicated except by us. It is almost a universal taste.

Why, then, should you drink other ginger ales if you can get Clicquot Club? Ask your grocer to send you a case. Keep a few bottles on ice or in a cold place. Serve it any time to anyone. They all like it.

Speed Demons Set for Shrine Auto Race at San Carlos Today

MEET NATIONAL IN CHARACTER
(INCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
URBANA (Ill.) June 13. That the National Collegiate Athletic Association track-and-field meet will be truly national in character this year may be seen by the following partial list of colleges and universities that have entered the meet:
Pennsylvania, Penn State, Georgetown, Yale, Wesleyan University, Hamilton, Villanova, Vanderbilt, Georgia Tech, Texas A. and M., California, Oregon, Montana, South Dakota, Missouri, Drake, Washington, Grinnell, Hastings, Notre Dame, Iowa, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan, Purdue, Earlham, Knox, De Pauw and Butler.
When the N.C.A.A. founded this meet was with the idea that the outstanding stars in the various sections of the United States might be brought together in one general meet and the national collegiate championship thus decided in the several events. Practically every man who won first in the eastern intercollegiate, the Big Ten Conference, the southern intercollegiate and the western intercollegiate will meet in Chicago June 17.
table for a big part of last season. The Canadian national champion Jules Ellingboe, will make his debut on the Pacific Coast when he rolls his great car to the starting line. Ellingboe's will be one of the new faces that Chairman William L. Hughes of the automobile committee of the Shrine promoters is bringing here for the big race. Wilbur D'Alessi, a test driver of the Mexican Anahuac car is another newcomer to San Francisco. Cliff Durant's great Durant Special, with which Tommy Milton copied the 1921 championship, will be driven either by Durant, himself a Shrineer, or by Raew Dutton, pretense of Earl Cooper. Art Klein will pilot one of Louis Chevrolet's newest Pontiacs, the make of car which won the 1920 and 1921 Indianapolis races. Klein declares the car to be lightning fast and capable of standing the terrific abuse he always gives a car in a hard race. Bennie Hill, with a brand new Miller job, fitted with the same motor which is proving such a sensation in Murphy's and Milton's cars, is looked on as a real contender in the big race.
THOMAS DETERMINED
Joe Thomas is about due for emerging from a speed battle as the victor and is determined to make a great effort to be the first to resolve the checkered flag.
The speedway stand, and grounds have been in the hands of contractors and landscape experts for three weeks. The result will prove a delightful surprise to the patrons who have attended races at San Carlos in the past. The automobile tunnels have been concreted, waterproofed, and separated from the pedestrian tunnels. A new concreted pedestrian tunnel has been constructed under the grand stand leading under the pits into the infield.
The Imperial Council of the Shrine and Potentates with their ladies will occupy boxes in the center of the stand, while uniformed bands and patrols will be scattered throughout the stand with a view to blending of colors to produce a beautiful effect.

GOOZEMAN AND KRAMER DRAW
one found its mark in the second round and Drexel bid the wide world a fond good night.
Jack Martin got away to a bad start in his affair with Cyclone Gavy, but he came through with flying colors and earned himself a draw.
Jack Burns had a hard time catching up with Pete Herman, but he did out a beautiful whipping to said P. H. whenever he nabbed him. It was Burns's fight all the way.
George Sherman finished Billy Nelson in the first round of the curtain raiser with a right to the jaw. Fred Kelley stopped Jimmy Kramer in the second round of an extra bout.
Jack Dempsey, Charlie Chaplin and Al Jolson were present and introduced to the multitude.
BATTLE TO DRAW
(BY A. F. MONT WIRE.)
ABERDEEN, (Wash.) June 13. Joe Gorman of Portland and Jimmy Sacco of Boston went six rounds to a draw last night. Mike Deplante of Portland drew with Mike Ballerina of Camp Lewis. Jack Robinson, Aberdeen heavy, shaded Eddie Lorraine of Seattle. Eddie Huse of Tacoma and Herb Panz of Hoquiam went four rounds to a draw.

TRAPSHOOTERS TO FOREGATHER
Big Tourney at Vernon Set for Next Friday
Target Notching Will Last Three Days in All
Useful Trophies to be Given to the Winners

These last few days of idleness have put an edge on the appetite of the local and visiting shooters now resting on their arms awaiting the opening of the seventh annual registered trapshooting tournament of the Vernon Gun Club. The competition will start at 9:00 Friday morning.
The practice-day event of two 100-target events was held last Sunday and top-notch scores were the result of many of the contestants.
TO BE DECIDED
On each day of the registered tournament three days in all, a total of 300 targets will be shot at on each day. Each block of 300 targets will be in events of twenty-five birds each with an entrance fee of $2.75 charged. The money will be divided 40, 30, 20 and 10 per cent. Class shooting will govern.
An optional pool of $5 on each 100 targets also will be arranged. The division in this case will be 100, 50, 30 and 10 per cent. class shooting. The guaranteed money plan.

PLAN RETURN MATCH
A return match will be played between members of the Rancho Golf Club and the Hillcrest Country Club tomorrow over the Rancho course.
The Hillcrest team, under the direction of Capt. Politz, is after revenge as the results of the last match were eight to one in favor of the Rancho team.

SPORT SHAPNEL
By HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

There are the usual output of rumors that Miller Huggins is to be replaced as manager of the New York Yankees. About twice over so often Messrs. Grotch and Gomp get busy and take the midday manager's job away from him.
One of these days they may get his job. But when Huggins is fired it will not be because of lack of efficiency, except in the firing department, but as a capitulation to his critics by the club owners. Huggins is unpopular with a large bloc of fans in New York and, as nearly as we can recall, so were most or all of his predecessors. New York is a bawling ground for managerial ambitions as far as the Yankees are concerned. Things are more settled on the two other teams in Greater New York. Uncle Wilbert Robinson has for several seasons stood well with the voters over on Long Island. John J. McGraw is as solidly entrenched at the Polo Grounds as though those stands were concrete emplacements on Cogan's Bluff and the only siege ordnance in the world pop guns.
But a Yankee manager seldom knows which side his bread is greased on and feels less certain of re-election than a Central American President.
There is a large and vicious pack of wolf-like fans forever calling for the blood of Huggins or his job. They would tear him, as a noid from adenoid and toss him into the Harlem River, tonsil by tonsil. Winning a pennant in October isn't sufficient. They want it done by midsummer, and July 4 set aside as Pennant Day.
Col. Ruppert is strong for Huggins. Col. Huston is understood not to be so strong for him. He is believed to be for him only about 25 per cent. Or, possibly, this seeming divergence of opinion is merely a strategic pose adopted by the two colonels. They may figure that for one of them to ostensibly be lukewarm toward the manager will partially satisfy the malcontents.
However, one of these days Huggins may know what the coliseum chills are like. Meaning that he may be thrown to the wild beasts. Then, after he has been thoroughly massacred, they will erect a tall marble shaft to the only manager who ever brought home the bacon for the American League in New York.
Huggins has the toughest job in baseball. His club year after year is a collection of stars, and stars are for the most part temperamental and not amenable to discipline. When writing baseball in that town I observed that when the Yankees were winning over a long stretch most of the stories were woven around Babe Ruth and the headlines built on his achievements.
But when the club went into a short slump the name of Huggins instantly popped into big, black type. Hugg was little more than the official goat when it came to publicity. At that time I felt that only two men in the world could make a success of the Yankee outfit, two men who were the antithesis of each other—McGraw and Robinson. McGraw, I believe, could rule the team by force; Robinson by his almost fatherly treatment of players.
Since then, however, Huggins came through and copped a championship. He is not liked by some of the stars on the club, but the same hostility probably would develop against any other manager. Most of the players wanted Roger Peckinpaugh to replace Huggins. Apparently Peck is a pleasant guy to play with. But playing with a guy and playing under him are two separate and distinct situations. One is the role of an associate; the other that of a boss.
Bill Emsick, manager of the Vernon club, has been mentioned in rumors at least as the possible or probable successor of Huggins. If the quest for a new manager is to be made in the minors it is doubtful whether a better selection could be made. The writer pointed Emsick out a year ago last spring as possible major-league material. Emsick knows baseball and has the unusual faculty of keeping the good will of his players while enforcing discipline.
But a man from the minors is under a handicap, as Clarence Rowland found out in Chicago and Harry Wolverton in New York. Lack of prestige with which to impress the players, and especially the older hands or stars, is the chief handicap. I think that Walter McCredie realized this when some years ago he refused the management of the Cleveland club. As a rule, major-league club owners place in managerial positions men with long big-league careers, and preferably stars, and this latter frequently fail.
There are exceptions, however. Lee Fohl was either a trainer or coach with the Indians before being given the management. Fred Mitchell was an obscure tutor of young pitchers and catchers for the Braves when picked for the Chicago leadership. The late Frank Selee, one of the most successful managers of all time, I believe never played a game of professional baseball in his life.
Should Emsick be offered the job of managing the Yankees it would be a great mistake for him to refuse it, even if his contract read only for one year. One year of bossing a ball club in New York is richer in excitement and experience than a lifetime passed in the minors. Who would exchange one dizzy moment on the pinnacle for a decade in the dugout? And then in the event of success, oh, boy!

SUZANNE URGED NOT TO PLAY
(BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
LONDON, June 13.—The English lawn tennis world is perturbed over the report from Paris that Suzanne Lenglen, for two years the holder of the women's grass-court championship, has developed heart trouble and her family is insisting that she withdraw from the coming championship tournament at Wimbledon. There has been much expectancy over a possible meeting at Wimbledon between the French girl and Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory, the woman singles champion, who, since coming to England, has rounded into form and now is playing at the top of her game.
Mrs. Mallory is said to have come to Europe especially with the hope of having another match with the French star and only after Mlle. Lenglen had definitely declared she would play through all the championship.
Much sympathy has been extended to Mrs. Mallory in her present disappointment over seeing Mlle. Lenglen.
At the Kent tennis championship at Beckenham, Mrs. Mallory has had two comfortable wins in the early rounds. Her first strong opponent will be Mrs. Peacock, former champion of India, in the fourth round of the singles. Mrs. Peacock recently defeated Miss Elizabeth Ryan of California and Miss McKane and Mrs. Beamish, two sterling British players.
In each event will depend upon the number of shooters entered.
The Vernon Gun Club will present to the high gun on each day's 100 targets, a useful take-home trophy. No shooter is eligible to win more than one trophy. Vernon also will have up a beautiful trophy for the high gun on the 300 registered targets.

BANGTAILS READY FOR THE BUGLE
Racing at Reno is All Set for the Grand Opening This Afternoon

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
RENO (Nev.) June 13.—Reno is tonight the capital of the western race fan, for tomorrow the annual thoroughbred meeting will be opened for a run of twenty-five days. An unexpected shower this afternoon dampened the track, but by tomorrow it should be in fine fettle for the opening.
Featuring the initial card will be the opening-day handicap at one mile and seventy yards. There will be six other events. Throughout the meeting there will be a heavy distribution of money to the owners, the purses and stakes being greater than Reno ever had in previous seasons.
This city of divorcees and divorcees is taking on a somewhat metropolitan appearance tonight, with the hotels and restaurants crowded with race fans drawn from many parts of the West.

Construction shows

the SAVAGE CORD IS BUILT TO EXCEL

This tire has started motordom with its remarkable performance on stage lines and other hard runs. There is nothing freakish about its construction, nor is it built by any so-called secret process. It does, however, embody the best known practices and latter-day attainments in cord tire construction. It has been built to be the world's foremost cord tire—built up to a standard for quality and not down to a price.
The men and motorists familiar with tire construction will find in the implicitly correct illustration above, aside from pleasing appearance and design, seventeen outstanding constructional features that make the Savage Cord the remarkable tire it is.
Other good makes of tires, to be sure, may use one or more of the features enumerated for this tire, but the Savage Cord is the only tire we know of that embodies them all.

1. An effective tread design provides traction, lateral stability and speed—all the ideal non-skid features with none of the disadvantages of some designs.
2. Stretched rubber is cut more readily than rubber under compression. The Savage Cord Tread is so designed that the rubber is compressed under car weight, thus increasing its resistance against sharp rocks, glass etc.
3. Shoulders of the tread are scientifically tapered instead of dropping off abruptly. This strengthens and guards against separation and break-down at this point. The extra thickness of rubber here gives maximum protection against rut wear and similar abrasive actions.
4. Our Breaker Cover makes an efficient bond between the tough, wear-resisting rubber of the tread and the soft, resilient rubber of the cushion and breaker strip.
5. Our Breaker Strip is designed especially for the Savage Cord. Its weave gives maximum protection, absorbing road shocks and preventing tread separation.
6. Generously heavy sidewalls of the same compound as the tread protect the carcass against rut wear and deterioration from water, oil, etc.
7. A pure gum cushion extends close down to the beads, cushioning and protecting the sides as well as the top of the carcass.
8. The Savage Bead Cushion is a protection against rim chafing.
9. In the areas most subject to overloading and abuse the carcass contains two more plies of cord fabric than the average cord tire. For example, the 3-inch has 10 plies. The average 3-inch tire has only 8 plies.
10. Pure gum friction around and between cords gives the carcass maximum elasticity and resiliency.
11. Two chafing strips of square woven fabric, so constructed that the cord carcass is gradually stiffened as it approaches the hard bead, prevents the common "blows" and resultant blow-outs above the beads.
12. The Savage system of interlocking holds the beads. It takes longer to build this way than by the usual methods, but we thereby give maximum protection against blow-outs so common to this point.
13. Our anchor strip provides real anchorage by looping around the bead and extending well up into the sidewall, thus insuring a perfect union between the bead proper and the carcass.
14. No adjoining plies have cords running in same direction. This method requires more time for construction for it necessitates the application of only one ply at a time. We feel the additional time is justified by the greater carcass strength secured.
15. Our tire has a larger sectional diameter than the average cord.
16. Both chafing strips extend up to this point instead of stopping at the top of the bead. This method locks our bead still more securely.
17. It is Built to Excel.

CLUBWOMEN TO CONVEENE SOON

General Federation Will Meet in New York

Los Angeles Delegates Leaving Today

Will Invite Biennial to This City in 1924

BY MYRA NYE

Of great interest to all clubwomen of the United States and of importance in club circles for two years to come will be the biennial of the General Federation of Women's Clubs at Chautauque, N. Y., the 19th to 20th inst., inclusive. The theme throughout all the sessions will be "Women and the World's Future." Los Angeles delegates are leaving today.

International evening will be a new feature. Distinguished foreign representatives will speak, including Count Ilva Tolstoy, who will represent Russia. The general federation hopes to work out a plan whereby the women of the eight great nations of the world may cement a friendship through the federation which will have for its aim the maintenance of permanent peace and the welfare of women and children of every land. Will H. Hays, president of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, will speak on "Upholding a Nation's Life Through Motion Pictures."

MANY PLANS
A kindergarten for every child and a library for every community will be the aim presented and plans for its operation by the department of applied education will be discussed. These are only a few of the many plans for the convention.

An invitation for the federation to convene in Los Angeles in 1924 will be extended by Mrs. Fitzgerald and there is reason to expect an acceptance.

Delegates from the same city will be placed together on "request" tickets to Chautauque. The following representative women will be in the special car which will leave Oakland, sixteenth-street station, at 11:38 on the 19th inst.: Mrs. W. A. Fitzgerald, State president; Mrs. O. H. Farnback of San Francisco; Mrs. Tert L. Mix of Los Angeles; Mrs. F. W. Harnan of San Diego; Mrs. John Alcher of San Francisco; Mrs. M. M. Mullin of South Pasadena; Mrs. A. H. Grosbeck of Oakland; Mrs. L. H. O'Hara of Los Gatos; Mrs. L. H. Mitchell of Pasadena; Mrs. Harriet G. Eddy, California leader of home demonstration, University of California.

CALIFORNIANS TO SPEAK
Mrs. Josiah Evans Cowles, past president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, will join the party at Chicago. Two delegates from Chicago, Mrs. Lyman and Mrs. Sweeley, will join at Ogden. Other representatives will join at Sacramento and Reno.

California women who will speak at the conference are Mrs. Robert J. Burdette, director for California for the General Federation; Mrs. Rose V. Berry, chairman of the department of fine arts, General Federation; Mrs. Annette Henry Reinhart, president of Mills College; Mrs. Edwin Pond James, chairman of Americanization for Alameda county; Mrs. Eddy; Mrs. Fitzgerald; and Mrs. H. Other women of this city who are going East to attend other conventions include Mrs. G. Wells Smith, who is a member of the city library board, will attend the

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.
Author of "Diet and Health, with Key to the Calorie"

ARE BOILS HEALTHY?
The definition that is given of a boil in Sutton's book on Skin Disorders is as follows:

Boil: (Furuncle.) An acute, deep-seated circumscribed phlegmonous inflammation, usually resulting in suppuration and necrosis. It is an infection of a skin gland or hair follicle. There may be one or several boils.

If you have ever had one, no doubt your definition would be: Boil (No relation.) A large chunk of Hides. (You would no doubt say something stronger, but my editor won't let me.)

In the previous articles I reviewed the life-history of Job, the most famous sufferer from boils, and you know from your own reading and from the review that I gave you, that boils are an affliction of Satan who wanted to deprive the most effective thing he could try to make man curse God and die.

Now are boils "healthy"? And by that my questioner meant this: The vile stuff which pours forth from boils is from the system and that the boils serve to carry this putrid matter away and drain the system and, in this manner, are beneficial; and, therefore one should not try to heal them up. Is this true?

Is this true? I answer, NO! And I answer it emphatically, NO! Although I know that that idea is very prevalent and that it is fostered to this day by some who profess to be authorities on subjects of health.

It is true that boils are beneficial to health. That conception taught us so much relating to life inviolable to the naked eye, and upon which knowledge of all our laws of sanitation are based.

Now we know that boils and other suppurative processes are caused by microscopic vegetations known as germs, or bacteria, or microbes, superimposed on tissue which has a lowered resistance from some cause.

Those who teach that boils are the result of a beneficent effort of the system to purge itself of impurities, are either the laymen who have no scientific training or so-called doctors who also have no scientific training. And then there are the old chaps with the right to the title of doctor, who graduated before the perfection of the microscope about fifty years ago and who have not kept up with the advance of science.

At first and for a long time these unscientific people denied the existence of germs; there wasn't no such animal. Now they are not doing that, but they are saying that germs are the result and not the cause of these conditions.

Council for Better Films
Attention of officers will engage the attention of the Co-operative Council for Better Films tomorrow at the meeting at the Friday Morning clubhouse at 10:30 a.m., with Mrs. Fred Kuck presiding. There will be an informal discussion on "What Constitutes a Good Film" and reviews of current motion pictures.

From Club Elections
The result of the election of officers held yesterday by the Southern California Woman's Press Club is as follows: President, Blanche Harriman Verbeck; first vice-president, Neeta Marquis; second vice-president, Ida Bole McCandless; corresponding secretary, Elizabeth McCabe Gilmore; recording secretary, Myra Caine Grant; treasurer, Lily J. Lawer; auditor, Alice W. Forsyth; historian, Emma Geekle Marshall; parliamentarian, Mrs. L. W. Gleason; directors, Clara G. Ellis, Lillian Scott, and Ross Ellerbe.

Simple Application That Dissolves Blackheads
No more queuing and standing to get rid of those unsightly blackheads. There is one simple, safe way to get them out and that is to dissolve them. To do this just get about two ounces of calomel powder and mix with a little on a hot, wet sponge—rub briskly over the blackheads for a few blackheads will be gone.

Pinching and squeezing out blackheads make large pores and you cannot get all of the blackheads out this way—while this simple application of calomel powder and water dissolves every particle of them and leaves the skin and pores in their natural condition. Druggists will sell you the calomel powder and about two ounces will be all you will ever need.—L.A. Verne.

When you ask for Shredded Wheat be sure you get the original Shredded Wheat you have always eaten, made at Oakland, Calif.—always clean, always pure, always the same high quality. Two blends with milk or cream, or with berries or other fruits, make a satisfying meal.

The whole wheat steamed-cooked, shredded and baked a crisp, golden brown—all the goodness of the wheat combined with the most luscious berry that comes from American soil. Nothing so wholesome and satisfying.

SIMILES

This game may take the form of a story given out by the leader, in which every character is likened to something left blank. Here is a specimen story, or the leader may write one for himself: "John Toogood. Toogood, or the leader as clean as a 2—, as fine as a 3—, and brave as a 4—, as strong as a 5—, with truth as deep as a 6—, a mind as clean as a 7—, and a will as firm as a 8—." Mary Toogood was as beautiful as an 9—, her neck as white as a 10—, and though John was as poor as a 11—, and her hair as dark as a 12—, she was as busy as a 13—, as neat as a 14—, and as light as a 15—, as bitter as a 16—, as dead as a 17—, as blind as a 18—, and as old as a 19—.

Answers: 1—Arrow, 2—Whistle, 3—Fiddle, 4—Lion, 5—Ox, 6—Well, 7—Rock, 8—Cash, 9—Angel, 10—Skies, 11—Snow, 12—Peashee, 13—Cherry, 14—Midnight, 15—See, 16—Pin, 17—Dollars, 18—Churchmouse, 19—Peacock, 20—Croesus, 21—Bin, 22—Miss, 23—Ram's, 24—Fox, 25—Flint, 26—Poker, 27—Golf, 28—Post, 29—Bat, 30—Methusalem.

The winner of the game is the one who can provide the greatest number of proverbial similes, as above, although, if so announced at the beginning of the game, the player who supplies the most comical answers may be declared winner.

After-Dinner Tricks

No. 105—Out String Restored

A piece of string is tied in a loop, which is doubled and the string is held as in Figure 1. Some one cuts the string, making four loose ends. The performer places two of these ends in his mouth and chews them. When he takes them from his mouth the loose ends are found to be joined together—the string has been completely restored!

The trick lies in the method of doubling the loop. The string is not doubled as one would ordinarily do it (See Figure 1), but is doubled as in Figure 2. When the string is held between the hands (Figure 3) the joining point "A" is concealed between the left thumb and forefinger. The string, however, appears to be doubled as in Figure 1.

The string is cut at any point along the portion held between the two hands, although the nearer the cut to the point "A" the better for the performer. Thus the string is divided into one long section and one short one between the points "A" and "B." The performer drops the ends held with the right hand, and places the left-hand ends in his mouth. In chewing the pieces, the short piece of string "A-B" is retained in the mouth and the long piece of string is withdrawn with its center apparently restored.

56 Vocations—the housewife's career!

Is housework more monotonous—more of a routine than business?

Women who have never actually worked outside the home, think so. Men who have never tried their powers at the intricate job of housecraft, think so.

Only the person who has tried both kinds that home management stands comparison with the most exacting business activities. In analyzing the career of "housecraft," the editors of Modern Priscilla have found that the care of a home—far from being merely routine—is based on a vast accumulation of household facts, gathered from year to year, and calls for the practice, to a greater or lesser degree, of 56 distinct vocations.

Homemaking—a science
Like all occupations, managing a home can be performed in a haphazard, planless fashion, or it can be done systematically and efficiently.

A meal can be just a meal—or it can be planned to include starches and proteins and minerals. A house can be just a house—or it can be a home restful to the nerves and appealing to the infinite sense of beauty.

STORIES OF PREVIOUS INSTALLMENTS

Following the murder of "Red" Quaker, a street man who "went to the law" through the back of his head, the "Jack O'Judgment" series of stories is continued. The story is a masterpiece of design, and it is the most beautiful she had ever seen.

Chapter VII

THE COLONEL CONDUCTS HIS BUSINESS

A merry little dinner party was assembled that night in a luxurious apartment in the Ritz Hotel. It was a bachelor party and consisted of three—the colonel, his friend, and a third man who was a guest. The colonel was a man of great power and influence, and he was the most powerful man in the city.

Stafford smiled.

"We can't run about after phantoms, sir," he said with a touch of asperity in his voice.

The chief looked at him curiously.

"I hear you do quite a lot of running about," he said carelessly as he began to arrange the papers on his table. "By the way, how is Miss White?"

Stafford flushed.

"She was very well when I saw her last night," he said stiffly. "She is leaving the stage."

"And her father?"

Stafford was silent for a second.

"He left his home a week before the case came into court and has not been seen since," he said.

The chief nodded.

"White is away and until he turns up I should keep a watchful eye on his daughter," he said.

"What do you mean, sir?" asked Stafford.

"I'm just making a suggestion," said the other. "Think it over."

Stafford thought it over on his way to meet the girl who was waiting for him on a sunny seat in Temple Gardens.

"I offered my resignation," he replied in answer to her unspoken question, "and Sir Stanley refused it."

"I think he was just," she said. "Why, it would be simply monstrous if your career were spoiled through no fault of your own."

He laughed.

"Don't let us talk about me," he said. "What have you done?"

"I've canceled all my contracts; I have other work to do."

"How are you?"

"I'm just making a suggestion," she said. "I am closing the house at Northam and storing the furniture, and shall keep just sufficient to fill a little flat which I have taken in Bloomsbury."

"But what are you going to do?" he asked curiously.

She shook her head.

"Oh, there are lots of things that a girl can do," she said vaguely, "besides going on the stage."

"But isn't it a sacrifice? Didn't you love your work?"

She hesitated.

"I thought I did at first," she said. "You see, I was always a very good mimic. When I was only a little girl I could imitate the colonel. Listen!"

Suddenly to his amazement he heard the drawing room of Dan Boundary. She laughed with glee at his amazement, but the smile vanished and she sighed.

"I want you to tell me one thing, Mr. King," she said. "Stafford—you promised me," he began.

She reddened.

"I hardly like calling you by your Christian name, but it sounds so like a surname that perhaps it won't be so bad."

"What do you want to ask?" he demanded.

She was silent for a moment, then she said:

"How far was my father implicated in this terrible business?"

"In the gang?"

She nodded.

He was in a dilemma. Solomon White was implicated as deeply as any save the colonel. In his younger days he had been the genius who was responsible for the organization and had been for years the colonel's right-hand man until the more subtle villainy of Pinto Silva, the Portuguese adventurer, had ousted him, and, if the truth be told, until the sight of his girl growing to womanhood had brought qualms to the heart of this man, who, whatever were his faults, loved the girl dearly.

"I would not judge your father," he said, "but I tell you this, that for the past few years he has played a very small part in the affairs of the gang. But what are you going to do?"

"How persistent you are," she laughed. "Why there are so many things I am going to do that I haven't time to tell you. For one thing, I am going to work to undo some of the mischief which the gang has wrought. I am going to make such reparation," she said, her lips trembling, "for the evil deeds which I fear my father has committed."

"You have a mission, eh?" he said with a little smile.

"Don't laugh at me," she pleaded. "There's something which tells me that, even if my father built up this gang, as you told me once he did—that you had forgotten that."

Stafford King had, indeed, forgotten the statement.

"Yes," he said. "You intend to pull it down?"

She nodded.

"I feel, too, that I am at bay," he said. "I am the daughter of Solomon White, and Solomon White is regarded by the colonel as a traitor. Do you think they will let me alone? Don't you think they are going to watch me day and night, and get me in their power just as soon as they can?"

"Oh, you'll be watched all right," he said easily. "In fact, you're being watched now. Do you mind?"

"Now?" she asked in surprise.

He nodded toward a lady who sat a dozen yards away and whose face was carefully shaded by a parasol.

"Who is she?" asked the girl curiously.

"A young person called Lollie Marsh," Stafford laughed. "At present she has a mission, too, which is to entangle me into a compromising situation."

The girl looked toward the spy with a new interest and a new resentment.

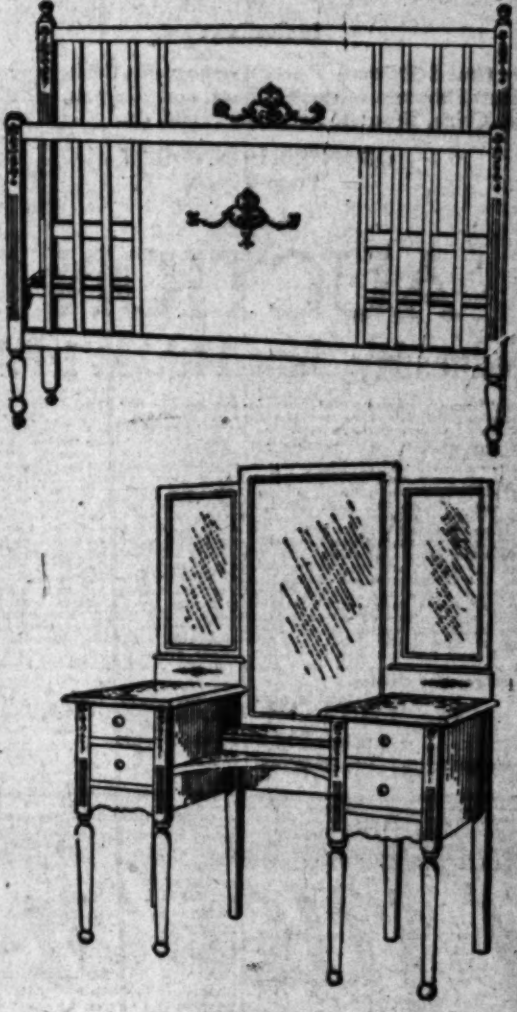

"She has been trailing me for weeks," he went on. "And it would be embarrassing to tell you the number of times we have been literally thrown into one another's arms. Poor girl," he said with mock concern, "she must be bored with sitting there so long! Let us take a stroll."

If he expected Lollie to follow, he was disappointed. She stared on, watching the disappearing figure, without attempting to rise. Waiting until they were out of sight she walked out on to the street and hailed a passing taxi. She seemed quite satisfied in her mind that the plan she had evolved for the trapping of Stafford King could not fail to succeed.

Suicide Caused by Grief Over Divorce Suit

Grief over separation from his wife led Edward Neff, a nephew of Francis Egan, owner of "Egan's Little Theater," to end his life yesterday in the home of George Bentle in South Pasadena. He was 38 years of age.

The youth shot himself through the head. A Japanese servant in the Bentle residence, where Neff was a guest, found the body of the young man who had been grieving over a suit for divorce that his wife had recently instituted. The body was taken to the undertaking parlor of Turner, Stevens and Berry, Pasadena.

"I'm going," said Mr. Neff, a very red of face. "A joke's a joke, and when friend Neff introduced me to you, I hadn't any idea that you were that kind of man. You don't suppose that I'm going to sit in your society—me with my high connections—after what you've said?"

"Why not?" asked the colonel.

"After all, business is business, and as I'm making an offer to you for the Riverbome Mill—"

"The Riverbome Mill?" interrupted the spinner. "Ah, that's a joke of yours! You'll say no Riverbome Mill from me."

"On the contrary, I shall buy the Riverbome Mill from you. In fact, I have all the papers and am ready to sign."

"Oh, you have, have you?" said the man grimly. "And what might you be offering me for the Riverbome Mill?"

"I'm offering you thirty thousand pounds cash," said the colonel, and his hearer was a broken speechless.

"Thirty thousand pounds cash!" he said after a while. "Why, man, that property is worth two hundred thousand pounds."

"I thought it was worth a little more," said the colonel carelessly.

"You're a fool or a madman," said the angry Yorkshireman. "It isn't my mill, it is a limited company."

"But you hold the majority of

Boos Bros. Catalina Island Cafeteria is Open

AFTER an exhilarating voyage across the channel on the steamer "Avalon," there is no sign on the island more welcome than "Boos Bros. Cafeteria."

To know that while you are vacationing you have the advantage of eating "where quality never varies," is in itself a wonderful satisfaction.

Little wonder everyone is so impatient to be among the first off the boat, for sea breezes are a remarkable stimulant for appetites.

The foods are of the same high standard as those served in Boos Bros. Cafeterias on the mainland, and the same unexcelled serving facilities prevail.

California Institute of Technology Grows

Seventy-three Degrees Are Awarded Graduates

Fine New Athletic Field is Assured Students

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent (EXCLUSIVE RIGHTS)

PASADENA, June 13.—Funds and property of the California Institute of Technology now amount to $5,900,000 of which $1,400,000 is in building and equipment. Arthur H. Fleming, president of the board of trustees announced today at the annual commencement exercises, at which seventy-three degrees were bestowed. The institute succeeded, Mr. Fleming announced, in meeting the conditions of a $1,000,000 gift offer from "friend" made a year ago, raised $4,507,000 in gifts and pledges in its financial campaign. An additional $10,000 for library development comes from the will of the late Mrs. W. E. Webb, he said, while $500,000 was appropriated from the general education bond. The institute also acquired eight acres east of its present campus for an outdoor gymnasium and athletic field.

Charles Galton Darwin, M.A., Ph.D., of Cambridge University, England, grandson of the great Charles Darwin, has accepted a post on the institute faculty and comes next fall as professor of physics. Dr. Richard Chase Tolman, director of the fixed nitrogen laboratory of the Department of Agriculture at Washington, is another new faculty member announced.

BRYAN'S IDEA SELLS
Dexter S. Kimball, dean of the engineering department of Cornell University and president of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, was the commencement speaker. He told the graduates that the American democracy was committed to the principle of universal well-being, and that engineers must aid in realizing this ideal. The Rev. Dr. Carl S. Patton of Los Angeles was chaplain of the day, and in his address took an indirect shot at W. J. Bryan, calling those who said there was conflict between religion and science "stupid" and declaring that it must be clear to anyone that thought must be absolutely free. The exercises were held in the open air in front of the Gates Chemical Laboratory. The academic procession formed in the administration building and to the strains of the "Coronation" march from "Folklore" by Kreutzer, played by the Caltech orchestra, marched into place. The orchestra followed with Serey's overture, "Mosaic," and the graduates, faculty and audience sang "America." Then followed Dr. Patton's address and invocation and Dean Kimball's address, "The Content of a Liberal Education." The dean spoke in part:

MORE CARS FOR HOLLYWOOD

Anticipating the granting of a franchise by the city permitting the construction of a tunnel west of its Hill-street station, the Pacific Electric has started work on several extensive projects incident to the tunnel construction, says an announcement made yesterday by Vice-President and General Manager Pontius of the company.

The work under construction consists of a new substation at St. Monica Boulevard and Highland avenue, together with heavier transmission lines and additional feeders; providing additional wires for reinforcing the transmission lines between Vineyard and Sherman and providing feeder cable for the Hollywood-Van Nuys line. The improvements will cost $129,900, according to Mr. Pontius.

Regarding improvement of Hollywood service, Mr. Pontius said: "I believe our Hollywood patrons will appreciate our desire to improve their service, not alone through our purchase of fifty new cars, but also from the fact that we have purchased property at the corner of First and Glendale avenue for connecting up the proposed tunnel tracks with the Glendale-Edendale line. This has been done in advance of franchise being granted by the city for the construction of the tunnel. Under ordinary conditions a railway company would not purchase property of this kind until franchise was granted."

Councilman Conaway at yesterday's Council meeting urged better street car service for Hollywood. A report made by Chief Engineer Osborne of the Board of Public Utilities was read, outlining the board's and the State Railroad Commission's orders for the Pacific Electric to provide more cars and to tunnel under Bunker Hill as to speed up the Hollywood service of the people of Hollywood.

"I must have better car service and I am going to do everything I can to see that they get it," the report was referred to the Public Utilities Committee of which Councilman Conaway is chairman.

The coming year. Among these new appointments are Charles Galton Darwin, Ph.D., from Cambridge University, England, a grandson of the great Charles Darwin, and Richard Chase Tolman, Ph.D., of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

DEGREES CONFERRED
In conferring the degrees, Dr. Arthur A. Noyes, who presided at the exercises, read a letter of regret from Dr. A. M. Litcher, chairman of the executive council, who was unable to be present.

Dr. Noyes told the class that service to the community is the spirit of the twentieth century, and that changes in politics, in business, in education and in religious teaching were resulting.

The degrees conferred numbered two Doctorates of Philosophy, three in Master of Science and six in Bachelor of Science.

Commencement day closed with the annual alumni banquet, held last night at the Vista Del Arroyo. Henry M. Litcher, chairman of the Board of Trustees, was the principal speaker.
